MONDAY DECEMBER 19.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION

June 19, 1888.

TO THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF THE UNITED STATES: In accordance with usage and obedient to the instructions of the national republican convention of 1884, a national convention of delegated representatives of the republican party will be held at the city of Chicago, Ill., on Tuesday, the 19th day of June, 1888, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of nominating candidates for President and Vice President to be supported at the next national election, and for the transaction of such other business as may be there presented.

Republican electors in the several states, and voters without regard to past political affiliation, difference or action who believe in the American principle of a protective tariff for the defense and development of home industries and the elevation of home labor; who would reduce the national taxes and prevent the accumulation of the surplus in the treasury in harmony with this principle; who are opposed to the attempt now more openly avowed than ever before to establish a policy which would strike down American labor to the level of the under-paid and oppressed workers of foreign lands; who favor a system of naval and coast defenses which will enable the United States to conduct its international negotiations with self respect; who gratefully cherish the defenders of the country; who condemn and resent the continued and unjust exclusion of rapidly growing territories, which have an indisputable title to admission into the sisterhood of states; who are in favor of free schools and popular education, a free and honest ballot and a fair count, the protection of every citizen of the United States in his legal rights at home and abroad, a foreign policy that shall extend our trade and commerce to every land and clime, and shall properly support the dignity of the nation and the promotion of friendly and harmonious relations and intercourse between all the states, are cordially invited to unite under this call in the formation of a national ticket.

Each state will be entitled to four delegates at large, and for each representative at large two delegates, and each congressional district in each territory and the District of Columbia to two delegates.

The delegates-at-large shall be chosen by popular state conventions, called in not less than twenty days' published notice and not less than thirty days before the meeting of the national convention. The congressional district delegates shall be chosen in the same manner as the nomination of a member of congress is made in said districts. The territorial delegates shall be chosen in the same manner as the nomination of delegates in congress is made. The delegates from the District of Columbia shall be chosen at a convention constituted of members elected in the primary district assemblies held under the call and direction of the republican central committee of said district: An alternate delegate for each delegate in the national convention to act in case of the absence of the delegate, shall be elected in the same manner and at the same time as the delegate is elected.

All notices of contests must be filed with the national committee in writing, accompanied by printed statements of the grounds of contests which shall be made public. Preference in the order of hearing and determining contests will be given by the convention in accordance with the dates of filing of such notices and statements with the national committee.

CHANDLER'S FAIR COUNT BILL.

The bill introduced by Senator Chandler, of New Hampshire, for regulating the election of members of congress in the states of South Carolina, Florida, Louisiana and Mississippi is in accordance with the constitutional powers of congress, but is at the same time in our judgment an impracticable measure, and therefore unwise and bad politics.

It provides for the appointment by the president, with the consent of the senate, of four supervisors of election for each congressional district in the above states, who are required to subdivide the districts into a sufficient number of voting precincts. In each of these precincts the circuit court of the United States is to appoint four inspectors and two poll clerks, whose duty it will be to make a registration of the voters and conduct the congressional elections. The supervisors will act as a canvassing board, receive the returns, and ascertain and announce the result, and all the election officers named will be divided equally between the two parties.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

The chief objections the Sentinel raises to Senator Chandler's bill are, first, that it cannot pass the house of representatives; second, that something like that method was tried under republican rule years ago, and failed; and third, that as long as the southern whites are practically united by the fear of a solid negro vote which will control their state and congressional elections, no form of interference by the national government that is likely to prove efficient has a reasonable prospect of being supported by northern sentiment.

The condition of things as regards the colored vote in the south is one which not only disgraces the south, but it is difficult to apply a remedy. National interference is not popular, even in the north, and what is to be done about it? The wisest statesman we have at Washington cannot point a way out of the difficulty. The official vote in all the southern states shows that the negro vote down there is almost completely suppressed. Official facts on this point were given in the Gazette a few days ago. The democrats do not deny that the negro republican vote in nearly all the southern states is outraged to that extent as to make it of no account. They don't deny this, because the fact is too bold to be contradicted. It requires nearly ten times as many votes to elect a congressman in the north as it does in the south, and this makes the south solid for democracy; and if it was not for this great political crime, the south would be no more solid for democracy than is the north.

Mr. John R. Lynch, of Mississippi, who was once a slave, and represented that state in congress for eight years, made a speech at the republican club meeting in New York last week. He described the political condition of things in Mississippi, his language being as follows:

That may be a broad assertion, yet I know it to be true. Now, you want me to go a little into details, to explain matters somewhat. Time is too precious for me to go into all of the details, but I simply touch upon a few, a very few, of the methods in Mississippi. In the state of Mississippi there are at least 20,000 more colored than whites. Fully one-third of the white men vote the republican ticket when they vote at all, and less than one-tenth of the colored men vote the democratic ticket. (Cheers.) Now then, you can easily judge for yourselves, if more than one-third of the white men vote the republican ticket and less than one-tenth of the colored men vote the democratic, there being 20,000 more black than white men in the state, that state ought to be safely republican. (Cheers.)

Now, notwithstanding these facts, Mississippi is always, according to the forms of law (laughter), safely and reliably democratic, and that, too, without regard to the men who may be at the head of one party and at the head of the other—without regard to the principles of the parties represented.

What Mr. Lynch says of the condition of the negro vote in his state, will apply to nearly every southern state. Well, what was his remedy for such a state of things? Here is what he recommended:

I have no time to suggest a remedy. (Cries of "go on," "let us have the remedy.") I have given that some careful thought and I will tell you the conclusions to which I have come. Under our peculiar form of government with the construction which the supreme court—unfortunately in my judgment—has placed upon the constitution, we cannot do much by law to make people do right. But if the republican party should get in power next year, as I hope and believe it will, then I say to you as a southern colored man: "If you can't do anything else, reduce the representation." (Loud applause and cries of "good.") In my state, for instance, we have seven members of congress; four of them are no doubt based upon the republican or colored vote. Yet that vote is not allowed to have any effect; it is practically null and void. Suppose you take off four and leave us three. You won't hurt me. (Laughter). You won't hurt any republican, and the effect will simply be this; Congress will say to me and my kind, if you cannot receive the right of suffrage then the men who claim to represent you shall not have the benefit of it. (Applause.) For that I will say: "Thank you." If I cannot have my own vote I do not want my enemy to have it. As matters now stand he not only has his own, but takes mine too. If you reduce the representation we southern colored men will at least have the satisfaction of knowing that our votes have not counted against us, and that will be something.

This remedy, while perfectly just, would not meet with popular favor, and beside that the representation could not be reduced as Mr. Lynch suggests. Congress would have to pass the reapportionment bill, and of course a democratic congress, which wants the south solid, would never consent to such a reduction of southern representation in congress. So that while Mr. Lynch suggests a "remedy", it is one that can never be adopted.

Mr. Cleveland has an eye open to business, although he is not consistent in his conclusion on the surplus question. The Washington Republican shows how a conundrum can answer itself: "The president pretends that his whole object is to reduce taxation and to keep down the surplus. He assails the wool growing industry, but fails to say a word in favor of striking down the burdensome sugar duty, which yields several times more revenue than the wool duties. If he wants to reduce the revenue, why this apparent inconsistency? The wool-growing districts are growing stronger in republicanism; the sugar growing districts are required to maintain a solid south.

"This is the application of a business principle to politics. Will it pay?"

Oshkosh Northwestern: The Milwaukee Sentinel does not credit the report that Senators Sawyer and Spooner will vote to confirm the appointment of Mr. Lamar to the supreme bench. People here do not credit it, either, and if they do it will create much surprise.

Late dispatches from Washington say that Senators Sawyer and Spooner will vote for the confirmation of Lamar notwithstanding the sentiment in the state against such action. Whether this report be true or not, cannot be definitely stated. It is to be hoped that the late dispatches misrepresent the Wisconsin senators. No member of the senate who has any regard for his loyal constituency, should vote to place a man on the supreme bench who glories in his treason against his country.

The Hon. S. P. Rounds died quite suddenly at his home in Omaha, on Saturday evening, of pneumonia. Mr. Rounds was formerly public printer, serving under Arthur and Cleveland, and resigned a little over a year ago. For many years he lived in Wisconsin and worked at the "case" as a printer. He and Mr. Wyman, who afterward became United States treasurer, were both printers and both worked in the Express newspaper office at Madison. During the past year Mr. Rounds purchased the Omaha Republican.

Isn't it very singular that while the democratic administration is making war against the tariff on woolen manufactures it doesn't say one word against the tariff on cotton manufactures. It is not difficult to explain why the administration does not attack southern cotton as well as northern wool.

The republican party is on the right side of every great and practical question of the day. A candidate who can call out the full republican vote and get it into the ballot box, will be elected to the presidency next year.

American political influence is reaching across the ocean in a singular manner. The British manufacturers are for Cleveland. The Irish people who want fair play and home rule, want Mr. Blaine.

The resolutions adopted by the young republicans in New York, would make a splendid national platform for the republican party next year. They have the true republican ring in them.

ANARCHY'S TOMB.

Final Interment of Spies, Parsons, Fischer, Engle and Lingg.

SCENES AT THEIR LAST RESTING PLACE.

The Remains Viewed by a Large Crowd of Friends and Sympathizers—The Proceedings Orderly Throughout—Synopsis of the Speeches.

LAID TO REST.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—After lying in the vault at Waldheim Cemetery for five weeks, under the constant guard of those who knew them when living, the bodies of the five dead Anarchists, August Spies, George Engel, Albert R. Parsons, Adolph Fischer and Louis Lingg, were yesterday consigned to the great Mother Earth. At 11 o'clock a train of eleven coaches, crowded with the relatives, friends and admirers of the dead men, to the number of over a thousand, started out from the Polk street depot of the Wisconsin Central railroad in a quiet, unostentatious way, without any previous show of banner-headed processions or heralding of trumpets. A few in the crowd had boutonnieres in their coats composed of crape and red ribbon intertwined, but outside of this there was nothing to mark the throng from those which usually attend a mechanics' excursion to some suburban picnic-ground. All of the most noted Anarchists of the city were present on the train, and also a large number of equally prominent labor-leaders of unpronounced Anarchist type. The attendance from outside towns was much smaller than had been expected.

On arriving at Waldheim the caskets containing the bodies were taken from the vault and were each partially covered with a red shroud, and above these floral decorations, many of them very beautiful and of a costly character. One of these floral decorations was in the form of a pillow. It rested on the coffin of Albert R. Parsons, and literally engraved on it were the words: "Our Papa." Following each coffin in its turn as it was borne toward the grave came the widows and children and other relatives of the deceased, or those who had been nearest and dearest to them in life. Among these, dressed in deepest mourning, were Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Engle, Mrs. Spies, Miss Gretchen Spies, the latter's two brothers and Nina Van Zandt. Walking behind the coffins came also the speakers of the day, Captain William P. Black, Paul Grottkau, of Milwaukee; Albert Currlin, of St. Louis, and Joseph R. Buchanan. Arriving at a spot close to the grave, the coffins were placed in a line in the following order: August Spies, George Engel, Albert R. Parsons, Adolph Fischer, Louis Lingg. The coverings over the glass head-pieces of the coffins were then raised and the crowd allowed to march past in single file and take their last look at the faces of the dead. The features of the dead all looked as if but little marred by the lapse of time since life had departed from them, with the exception of Lingg's, around whose eyes were broad purplish-red rings. Spies' face in particular looked almost as natural as if still that of a living being, excepting that it looked larger, fuller and of sterner cast than it bore when Spies was living. Slowly and with hats off and reverent bearing the long procession passed and gazed at the faces of the dead. This ceremony took so long that it was thought inadvisable to await its termination before commencing the more formal ceremonies of the day.

These ceremonies were presided over by Joseph R. Buchanan, and commenced with the singing by a mass choir of a song written for the occasion and entitled: "Am Grabe Unserer Freunde," or, in English, "At the Grave of Our Friends."

Paul Grottkau, of Milwaukee, followed with an oration which was moderate in its tone. He spoke in German. He declared these dead had been killed by the ruling classes because of their love of truth, of freedom and honesty. They took the license of free speech and told the truth as they understood it to the capitalistic classes. Their murder was brutal and cowardly. The speaker then went on to say that in their death the world would find its benefits, for they died not for a few thousands of people, but for mankind at large. They died for the laboring people and thought it their bounden duty to do so. The murder committed by the ruling classes had made widows and orphans. Would they be neglected? The present acts might be the youngest in an epoch, but they were not the last to occur. The quadruple gallows was a great mistake. Not even a thousand gallows would kill the truth. Neither could the police, nor rifles, nor bayonets nor even cannons banish the truth. [Cries of "Bravo."]

The names of the agitators would glow in the bright page of history. When this was done, when the idea for which they all labored would win it would be the grand outcome of the thoughts of those who died for them assembled before him. The grand idea for which their dead labored would be mighty, and move on forever. The future would be the speech of the dead, the men who had the courage to speak their convictions, that were to kill all evil in the world, for they loved all that was good, and loved their neighbors. For this, honor was due and given to the dead. Their memory would be worthily honored. They would rest in peace.

Albert Currlin, of St. Louis, followed. During his remarks he said it had been stated that the dead were Anarchists and that anarchy meant war. This was wrong. They were fighting for freedom, order and the good of humanity. The dead were their teachers in this. It was capital that declared that they were Anarchists, for capitalists would not understand them. Capitalists did not know what anarchy was. It had been said that the dead opposed the freedom of the ballot. They did not fight the freedom of the ballot. Why? Because the hangman had killed their views. Their murderers had robbed them of their belief. Capital had sold out and betrayed the constitution and its worth to mammon. The men who were dead before them were the true patriots.

Joseph Buchanan spoke briefly and was followed by Captain W. P. Black, who showed, by quoting from the Bible, how fraternity had been taught by Christ. He then proceeded as follows:

"My friends, has the world yet reached this ultimate of progress? Has it yet reached its highest point of honor and of development? Look on these dead and answer; for whatever we may say as to their methods, the judgment of simple justice is that their purpose was the elevation of mankind; their desire the amelioration of the condition of those who were about them; their longing to bring in the day of universal brotherhood and universal peace. And yet the world has nothing better for these men than the gibbet. But, while we take these lessons to our hearts again, we do not despair. For, again, we remember that underneath the winter's snows, the invisible hearts of the flowers grow ripe for blossoming; and we know that the cause for which these men died takes root in human hearts, and reaches upwards and abroad, and can not be destroyed."

During the course of Captain Black's remarks, and while he was making a special reference to the dead before him, Mrs. Parsons, who was standing in front of the coffin containing her dead husband, suddenly lost control of her feelings, and became hysterical, shrieking and moaning in a pitiful way, and at last fainting.

At the close of Mr. Currlin's address the massed choir sang "Gut Nacht," after which the coffins were lowered into the grave which had been prepared for them. This grave or vault was open at the top, its sides and floor being made of solid masonry. Its width is that of the length of a coffin, and its length just sufficient to contain the coffins packed close side by side. The five coffins having been lowered into this curious vault, an immense flag-stone was lowered down over it, covering the vault entirely; the stone being lowered down to its place with the aid of a derrick.

During all the ceremonies excellent order was preserved, and the only show of a want of reverence for the occasion was the use of the word "Bravo" by several of the auditors during the progress of Grottkau's speech.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—The total sum raised by the Anarchists' Defense Association is $24,300, of which it has spent $23,000, but has debts which will more than wipe out the balance. Since January, for services at Ottawa and Washington, Captain Black has been paid $2,550; General Pryor got $1,000 for his unavailing services, and Leonard Swett $1,000, making a total paid him of $3,500. For shorthand work, printing, and a copy of the record there was paid out $3,200. The receipts from January to November were $4,300.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill, Dec. 19.—The Pioneer Aid and Support Association of Chicago was incorporated Friday. Its object is to support the families and dependents of those who uphold the interests of labor. It is supposed to be an organization to take charge of the provision made for the families of the imprisoned and executed Anarchists.

THE FEDERATION ADJOURNS.

Protest Against the Meddling of Police with the Meetings of Workmen.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 19.—The Federation of Labor met at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The Committee on Resolutions presented its report. The first article was a recommendation to adopt the resolution offered by George D. Block denouncing "the meddling of police with meetings of workmen." The resolution stated that there was a tendency among the authorities of several cities to curtail the constitutional rights of the people. George D. Block spoke in favor of his resolution, and said that the Federation ought to put itself upon record that the police should not attempt to curtail the rights of the working-men. The resolution was adopted. Nothing was done in regard to the eight-hour movement. A resolution to make education compulsory was adopted; also one to restrict Chinese labor, and another to retain the tax on tobacco. Among other resolutions adopted were those favoring the bill of Martin Foran, now before Congress, to increase the pay of Government printers; coinciding with the views and objects of the British peace delegation; sympathizing with Ireland in her struggle for freedom, and to assist in the formation of central labor unions in cities. The convention then adjourned sine die.

Indiana Grangers on the Tariff.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Dec. 19.—The Indiana State Grange, after three days' session, has adjourned. M. Trusler was re-elected to the master's chair. About 100 delegates were in attendance. A resolution demanding that the internal revenue taxes upon whisky and tobacco be maintained, and that the tariff upon all "necessities of life" should be reduced, was, after discussion, almost unanimously adopted, only one vote being cast in the negative. The next meeting is to be held in Kokomo, Howard County, in 1888.

Harper Will Testify Against His Partners.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 19.—District-Attorney Burnett telegraphed to Judge Sage from Columbus Saturday informing him that Harper, who is confined in the penitentiary, has agreed to testify in the cases against Hopkins, Baldwin and other officials indicted for robbing and wrecking the Fidelity Bank. The trial of Hopkins has been postponed until January 10 on account of the serious illness of Judge Sage's wife at Lebanon, O.

The Knights for Cullom's Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The Knights of Labor, who, at their recent convention at Minneapolis, appointed a committee to memorialize Congress on the subject of postal telegraphy, have prepared a petition which is now being circulated in all the assemblies throughout the United States, and will be presented to Congress at an early day. The Knights approve of Cullom's bill, and will specify it as the one they prefer to have become a law.

The Message in Demand.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—One hundred thousand copies of the President's message have been printed for circulation by Democratic members of Congress as a political document, and it is believed that at least 1,000,000 copies will be thrown into the hands of the people in pamphlet form before the next Presidential nominating convention. There has been a loud call for the document from all over the land.

The Robinson Jury Disagree.

BOSTON, Dec. 19.—In the case of Sarah J. Robinson, on trial for poisoning her son William, the jury came into court late Saturday afternoon, having been out two days, and reported they were unable to agree. They were thereupon discharged. It is understood they stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal.

Austria Will Await Developments.

VIENNA, Dec. 19.—As the military council presided over by the Emperor Francis Joseph yesterday it was determined to devote a large sum of money to the purchase of equipments and the construction of huts for troops in Galicia, but not to increase the forces unless there should be some further aggressive movement on the part of Russia.

Proposed Change in the Postal Laws.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—There will soon be brought before Congress a bill that has been prepared in the Post-office Department which provides that any thing not in the nature of a personal communication may be printed on envelopes and wrappers for third-class matter.

To Succeed Higgins.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Mr. Perry O. Smith, of New Jersey, is to succeed Mr. Higgins as chief of the appointment division of the Treasury Department. He is at present employed in the Post-office Department, and is a cousin of Secretary Fairchild.

Cure for Ireland's Ills.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 19.—In a speech here Saturday Mr. Chamberlain explained the nature of the Irish land acts and gave it as his opinion that the present deplorable condition of affairs in the country could be effectually remedied by emigration alone.

THE CLUBS ADJOURN.

The Republican Convention in New York Completes Its Work.

THE PROCEEDINGS ON SATURDAY.

James P. Foster Chosen President of the National League—An Attack on Lamar Squelched—Another Meeting to Be Held in March.

CLOSE OF THE CLUB CONVENTION.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The third day of the convention of Republican clubs, at Chickering Hall, opened at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. The New York delegation met before the convention was called to order, and received the unequivocal declination of Chauncey M. Depew for the presidency of the National League, and nominated James P. Foster, president of the New York Republican club, for that position.

Chairman Evarts announced the first business of the convention to be the election of the delegations from each State for vice-president and members of the Executive Committee. When General Nathan Goff arose to make the nominations for West Virginia, long-continued applause greeted him.

Nominations for president of the National League then followed. Seward A. Simons, of Buffalo, in eloquent terms nominated James P. Foster, president of the New York Republican Club, for president. General Nathan Goff, of West Virginia, in words high in praise, nominated E. Lowden Snowden, of Pennsylvania. Colonel Atkinson, of Michigan, nominated Colonel Nathan Goff. Mr. Goff declined, saying his position of Senator and his other duties would prevent his serving. Mr. Lester, of Illinois, then spoke in favor of Foster. Congressman Horr, of Michigan, thought the presidency should remain in New York. William H. Beveridge, of Virginia, spoke for Snowden. Leonidas Houk, of Tennessee, spoke for Foster, and Judge Brown, of Ohio, said that without a speech he would second the nomination of Mr. Foster for the Ohio delegation. Mr. Snowden hereupon withdrew his name from the contest for president. Loud cries arose of "Question." W. E. Gardner, of Wisconsin, moved the election of Mr. Foster by acclamation. It was carried by a tumultuous cry of "Aye," and not a single "Nay." James P. Foster, of New York, was declared elected president of the National League.

Mr. Foster, on ascending to the platform, was warmly greeted. When allowed to speak he said:

"We have an organization that will bring into power or defeat the purposes of that great organization that created it. Who can doubt that the power of this great National League will either destroy or set up the candidate of Republicanism. We are the power that will rule elections, but if we interfere with the old Republican party we will destroy it. It may take some time to make New York Republican, but we can at least cut down the Democratic majorities. We will aid our sister States and give a fair vote to the South, by which we will establish a Republican rule all over the country. I thank you again, and predict a great victory in 1888."

The selection of vice-presidents, handed in by the different States, is as follows:

Arizona, Robert E. Morrison; Delaware, Joseph R. Whittaker; Illinois, Judge D. Harvey Palmer; Iowa, Robert Fullerton; Kentucky, Alexander R. Pearson; Kansas, James W. Hamilton; Maine, A. A. Strout; Maryland, Ira Tyler; Massachusetts, George B. Robinson; Michigan, Clarence A. Black; Minnesota, Captain M. Grinager; Tennessee, M. J. Condon; New Hampshire, Charles S. Sawyer; Wisconsin, W. E. Gardiner; New York, James F. Blanchard; Connecticut, Judge E. B. Bostest; Ohio, L. W. Brown; Pennsylvania, Benjamin F. Hughes; Vermont, W. G. Dunoon; Virginia, John L. Wise; West Virginia, G. M. Bowers; Dakota, L. A. Rose; District of Columbia, William A. Clapp; New Jersey, J. A. McGowan.

The members of the Executive Committee are:

Arizona, A. L. Morrison; Connecticut, James A. Haworth; Delaware, Edmund Mitchell, Jr.; Illinois, William W. Tracy; Iowa, J. S. Clarkson; Kansas, J. S. Slecknecker; Kentucky, Augustus E. Wilson; Maine, Joseph Manley; Maryland, W. W. Johnson; Massachusetts, John W. Candler; Michigan, James E. Beal; Minnesota, T. E. Burns; Nebraska, R. W. Breckenridge; New Hampshire, H. J. Black; New York, Edward D. Brackett; Ohio, John A. Caldwell; Pennsylvania, F. C. Robertson; Rhode Island, E. W. Hayes; Tennessee, J. J. Littleton; Vermont, George C. Noble; Virginia, J. W. Southard; West Virginia, D. P. Morgan; Wisconsin, Robert M. LaFollette; Dakota, Judge A. Guptill; District of Columbia, E. W. Fox; New Jersey, E. W. Sanderson.

A resolution by Howard N. Fuller, of Albany, was the cause of much excitement. It ran as follows:

"Resolved, That this convention of the Republican clubs of the United States, representing the universal sentiment and patriotic desire of the Republicans of the United States represented by us, record its emphatic disapproval and condemnation of President Cleveland's action in nominating L. Q. C. Lamar for the Supreme Court bench of the United States, and we recommend that the Republican members of the United States Senate vote against the confirmation of the same."

The matter was put to a viva voce vote on the question of tabling it, and although the noes seemed to be as strong at least as the ayes, Evarts declared it tabled. The convention then adjourned sine die.

After the convention had adjourned the Executive Committee of the National League and New York League, with whom was left the nomination of a secretary and treasurer, appointed a sub-committee to name these officers. This committee agreed to leave the choice of a secretary to Presidents Foster. It will decide upon a treasurer later. The sub-committee established headquarters at the New York Club's rooms, and will have a branch at the National Republican Club's rooms in Washington. The New York League decided that clubs from towns of over 10,000 population should pay into the State League treasury $25 as an initiation fee and those from smaller towns $10. The League will hold a convention in March, when there will be seven delegates present from each State.

Butchery of Innocents.

COLUMBUS, Ark., Dec. 19.—Charles Whitsett, a half-witted boy aged 13, went out walking with his young brother, aged 9, and his sister, aged 6. He returned home alone and informed his mother he had killed them, showing a large knife with which he had done the deed. Investigation found the boy and girl stretched out in pools of blood with their heads cut off.

Aubertin Insane.

PARIS, Dec. 19.—Aubertin, the man who attempted to assassinate M. Ferry in the hall of the Chamber of Deputies, was arraigned before a magistrate for a preliminary examination Saturday. While the examination was progressing the prisoner was attacked with dementia, and he was removed to a mad house.

Robinson Convicted.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 19.—James Robinson, the third and last of the murderers of Detective Hulligan, of this city, was yesterday found guilty at Ravenna, O., of murder in the first degree.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches snuffs, powders, syringes, astringents or any similar application, because they are all irritating do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

FOUR-SCORE YEARS.

The Poet Whittier Celebrating His Eightieth Birthday.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 19.—John G. Whittier celebrated the eightieth anniversary of his birthday, but in an informal manner. He held a reception at "Oak Knoll," his cousin's house in Danville, which he makes his winter home. Mr. Whittier is no longer in vigorous health, and, although still a clear thinker, conversation is not so pleasant on account of his increasing deafness.

Congratulations came in from friends, notable among whom are: George W. Childs, Walt Whitman, Senator Hoar, Mark Twain, Secretary Lamar, Henry Cabot Lodge, John G. Nicolay and many others. A handsome testimonial book had been prepared for the birthday, to be signed by prominent publicists, including the President, but, unluckily, it did not arrive in time for formal presentation. The schools in this and many other States celebrated the day as "Whittier-Day" by the recitation of his poems.

S. P. ROUNDS.

Death at Omaha, Neb., of the Ex-Public Printer—Sketch of His Life.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 19.—Hon. S. P. Rounds, editor and principal proprietor of the Omaha Republican, died at 8:50 o'clock Saturday evening at his residence in this city, of pneumonia, after an illness of ten days. Mr. Rounds was well known all over the country, but particularly in the West.

[Mr. Rounds was a native of Vermont, born in June, 1818. He learned the printer's trade in the office of a relative named Jewett in Buffalo, N. Y., and then went to Racine, Wis., where he started the publication of a weekly paper. He was married in Racine December 8, 1850, and has three sons and two daughters living. After his marriage Mr. Rounds returned to Milwaukee and started the News as a weekly paper. He afterwards went to Chicago and opened a large job printing office in company with James J. Langdon. After the big fire they located on Monroe street, where the business was continued until about five years ago, when it failed. In 1883 Mr. Rounds obtained the position of Public Printer at Washington, which he held a little more than four years. One year ago last September he purchased the Omaha Republican, and moved his family there.]

J. F. STUDEBAKER DEAD.

A Complication of Diseases Carries Away One of the Carriage Manufacturers.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Mr. Jacob Franklin Studebaker, the carriage manufacturer, died at the Leland Hotel at 4:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon. His family had but recently returned from Europe and were present at his bedside. The remains have been taken to South Bend, Ind., for burial, and the funeral will take place Wednesday.

[Jacob Franklin Studebaker, the youngest of five surviving sons of John and Rebecca Studebaker, was born in a small town in Ohio in 1845. He received his education at the common schools in Ohio and Indiana and at Notre Dame University, near South Bend, in the latter State. In 1868 he became a member of the Studebaker firm, becoming manager of the carriage-building department, which has been his special line ever since.

Silks Stolen.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—It was discovered Saturday that several cases of silk, valued at $14,000, had been stolen from the public stores. A truckman gave a forged order and the goods were delivered to him. Collector Magone says he is satisfied that the robbery is the result of a conspiracy of custom-house employes, as the order calling for bales of silk was evidently not made up from invoices but from markings on the outside of the boxes. The police have been at work on the case, but so far have learned nothing.

Thousands of Carnegie's Men Shut Out.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 19.—The rail department of Andrew Carnegie's great steel works at Braddock (the Edgar Thompson Company) was closed Saturday for an indefinite period. Employes were notified that they would be paid in full as soon as the accounts could be made up. The shutdown is supposed to be the result of the low price of rails. The converting and blooming departments also ceased operations for annual repairs. Thousands of men are affected.

A Cold Wave.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 19.—It has been snowing heavily in Northern Minnesota, a foot having fallen at Brainerd. Both Brainerd and Duluth report trains somewhat delayed. The weather is mild, and the snow packs badly. The signal office here last night issued the following: "A cold wave will extend over Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The temperature will fall 15 to 25 degrees by Tuesday morning."

Paine Beats Bennett's Pistol Record.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 19.—Ira Paine Saturday completed his 600 shots at fifty yards' distance, with a pistol, firing 210 shots and scoring 1,079 out of a possible 2,100, making a grand total of 5,279 out of a possible 6,000, or 107 more than Bennett made at Walnut Hills.

Fastest Time on Record.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The steamer Etruria, which reached Queenstown yesterday, made the fastest east-bound trip on record, her time from New York to Fastnet being six days and two hours. The same steamer has the fastest westward-bound record—six days, five hours and forty-four minutes.

The New House Committee on Rules.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Speaker Carlisle said Saturday afternoon that he would announce the committee on rules when the House meets on Monday. The committee will consist of the Speaker and Messrs. Randall, Mills, Reed and Cannon, unless the present conclusion is reconsidered.

To Resume Work.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 19.—The St. Louis sugar refinery, which has been shut down for fourteen months, will start to-day with a force of 1,000 men.

Cramps or the Muscles Cured.

John L. Wood, of Stratford, Ont., was cured of cramps in the legs by wearing Allcock's Porous Plasters. Mr. Wood says:

Some three months ago I was taken very sick with severe pain in the small of the back over the kidneys. The pain was excruciating. I applied an Allcock's Porous Plaster over the affected portion and had relief almost within an hour. At the same time, in conjunction with this trouble, I had very great nervous disturbance affecting my legs with cramps so I could scarcely sleep. Meeting with such success with my back I applied a plaster under the knee on each leg, and in three days was completely cured, and have never been troubled in either way since.

THROUGH A BRIDGE.

A Terrible Accident on a Railroad in New Brunswick.

EIGHT MEN LOSE THEIR LIVES.

An Engine and Snow-Plow on the Caraquette (N. B.) Railroad Leaves the Track and Buries Thirteen Men Under the Ice of McIntosh's Cove.

FIVE BADLY HURT.

ST. JOHNS, N. B., Dec. 19.—An engine and snow-plow on the Caraquette railway was thrown from the bridge at McIntosh's cove Saturday afternoon, carrying down thirteen men, of whom eight were drowned before they could be rescued. The disaster occurred at a point about forty miles from Bathurst, the capital of Gloucester County, one of the northern counties of the province. For several days the locality has been visited by tremendous snow-storms and the track was obstructed by enormous drifts. The east-bound accommodation train, filled with passengers, left Caraquette for Bathurst at 2 o'clock, having a snow-plow attached in front of the engine to clear the track. As the train approached McIntosh's cove a huge drift was discovered at the west end of the bridge. They determined to detach the engine and plow from the rest of the train and plow into the drift, expecting that little trouble would be experienced in removing the obstruction.

Scarcely had the center of the bridge been reached when the passengers were horrified to observe the plow leaving the rails, and in an instant both the plow and the engine had run off the track and plunged into the abyss below, crashing through the thin ice that covered the river, and burying themselves in the dark tide beneath. The water was not over six feet deep, but it was so covered with snow and ice that only the top of the engine was visible. The heartrending cries of the unfortunate men nerved the onlookers to immediate action, and many a heroic deed was done which will never be recorded. Regardless of their lives, brave fishermen plunged into the river and worked for hours in the hope of saving the lives of the unfortunates, but of the thirteen who started only five were saved. Eight poor fellows were buried beneath the engine. The five men rescued were all terribly bruised, but it is expected they will recover.

LAMAR'S FOES.

They Are Striving to Defeat Confirmation of His Nomination as Supreme Justice.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—It is ascertained that the Republican members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, with the exception of Mr. Evarts, who is in New York, had a conference recently in which it was determined to report adversely on the nomination of Secretary Lamar to the Supreme Bench. Little fear, however, is expressed of Mr. Lamar's confirmation, as a sufficient number of Republican Senators will vote with the Democrats to constitute a majority vote. Among these are named Senators Stewart, Cameron, Teller, Mitchell, Sawyer and Evarts. It is understood that Senator Chandler is working vigorously against Mr. Lamar's confirmation, because Mr. Lamar voted to reject Mr. Chandler's nomination for Solicitor-General under the Garfield Administration, and also against his nomination as Secretary of the Navy under the Arthur Administration.

THE PACIFIC ROADS.

President Cleveland Will Probably Send a Special Message to Congress on the Subject.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The President's delay in sending to Congress the report of the Pacific Railroad Commission is caused by the fact that two reports were made, and that he intends to send a special message to Congress on the subject. It is necessary that he should take some time to consider both reports thoroughly before writing his message. He is very anxious that Congress should pass some legislation this winter to secure the interests of the Government, and he has spoken to some of the leading members of his party on the subject. The question is a very important one, and he will urge very strongly in his message that prompt and wise action be taken to secure the Government against loss.

More Trouble in Indian Territory.

VENITA, I. T., Dec. 19.—Ex-Chief D. W. Bushyhead, who was thrown bodily from the Executive mansion of the Cherokee Government at Tahlequah week before last, has issued a call to his followers in council at Campbell's Store, about thirty miles from here, next Monday. The call is for 200 men, to seek redress for the wrong done the Bushyhead party and also to gain control of the Government, which is now in the hands of the Downing party. The latter are prepared for and expect an attack from the Nationals.

The Charge Against Ives Dismissed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Justice Kilbreth, of the Tombs police court, has dismissed the case against Henry S. Ives, who was charged by Julius Dexter, of Cincinnati, with stealing a draft for $100,000 from the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad. Ives says he will at once institute proceedings against Dexter, claiming $100,000 for malicious prosecution.

Coronation Ceremonies in Dakota.

PIERRE, D. T., Dec. 19.—A queen was crowned Saturday night at Old Fort Pierre, on the Sioux reservation, before an interested crowd of Indians, many of whom traveled for miles to witness the ceremony. Her royal highness was presented with forty buffalo robes and two horses.

His Life Spared.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 19.—The jury in the case of McCoy, charged with the murder of a United States officer in this State, brought in a verdict of not guilty. He was convicted and sentenced to be hanged a year ago, but the Supreme Court granted him a new trial with the above result.

Killed Her Abusive Husband.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 19.—John Thorney, of this place, went home drunk and began to abuse his wife, who responded by striking him on the head with a potato-masher. The man's skull was fractured by the blow, from which his death resulted within a short time.

Michigan's Salt Production.

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 19.—The annual report of the State Inspector shows that 3,944,300 barrels of salt were inspected in Michigan during the present year. There are 142 blocks and 4,500 salt covers in the State, with an estimated capacity of 5,265,000 barrels.

A Kentucky Feud's Results.

WINCHESTER, Ky., Dec. 19.—As a result of the feud between the Adams and Caswell factions in Rock Castle County seven men have been killed within a week, many others wounded and several houses burned.

President Stearns Resigns.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 19.—Frederick K. Stearns, president of the Detroit Base-Ball Club, has tendered his resignation, owing to the pressure of other business.

'Tis an Ill Wind

That brings with gusts of rain from the northeast. When the wind blew from that quarter on a wet day, the rheumatisms are apt to suffer, even if seated by their "ain comfortable ingle" in a cosy arm chair. A few wineglassfuls of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—most genial and comforting of specifics—will afford them unspeakable relief. There is ample proof on record of its efficacy in this disease—more particularly if used for its relief at the outset. Chills and fever, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, and a lack of tone in the kidneys and bladder, should also be treated with this useful family medicine of botanic origin. Appetite improves, refreshing slumber once more visits the weary eyelids of the nervous, and the circulation is enriched and accelerated in consequence of its invigorating and regulating action. Use it as a protector after getting wet.

MADISON, WIS.

During the past five years Dr. Vance has devoted his attention almost exclusively to the treatment of

Diseases of the Rectum

He is meeting with success in all diseases that are curable. Some patients neglect to have treatment until it is too late. His treatment is almost painless, and does not prevent his patients from doing ordinary work. Patients improve from the first treatment.

The doctor may be consulted at the Myers House, on Dec. 2d, 16th and 30th. All who are troubled with any form of Piles, etc., should call upon him.

OFFICE ALEX. COOK, ATTY AT LAW, WAUKESHA, Sept. 13, 1886.

In this interest of suffering humanity, I am prompted to say that after having been afflicted with an aggravated type of Piles for more than thirty years, being advised there, to by trustworthy medical authority, based on personal experience, I placed myself under the treatment of Dr. Vance, of Madison. And my advice to all suffering in like manner is unhesitatingly to do likewise, and thereby receive full as apparently in my case, permanent cure.

A. COOK.

FOOTNELLD, WIS., September 25, '85.

I was troubled with Piles for about twenty-five years. Under Dr. Vance's treatment I have entirely recovered. While under treatment I was not prevented from work a single day. I can recommend Dr. Vance and his system of treatment for Piles to all who are afflicted.

FLINT-LOCK PISTOLS.

Old-Fashioned Weapons That Are Highly Prized by Collectors.

The old style of flint-lock, muzzle-loading pistol will bring twice the price to-day that it commanded when it was the finest thing known in the way of small fire-arms. But it is purchased as a relic, a curiosity. It is very hard to get one. They are, of course, no longer made, and those who chance to have one hold on to it because it will get still more valuable as it becomes older.

The old style of pistol was never of much use. The flint-lock went off only about once in ten trials. Then it took about as much time and bother to load as a gun. The handle of this old pistol was generally of black walnut or some hard, dark wood with cuts crosswise to give a better grasp. The handle was also made long so that it could be held the more steadily. The old-style weapon was some ten inches in length, about thirty-six caliber, and with a hair trigger. It could not be carried conveniently except in a belt.

The best manufacturers of these pistols were a Dublin firm, McMullan Brothers. The firm no longer exists. They are not regularly manufactured in these days of revolvers. Some few are made, dragged around in the dirt to make them look scratched and worn, and when the barrel gets a little rusty they are offered to the public as antiquities.

"These old pistols," said one of the employes of the Remingtons, "can hardly be found anywhere in this country. It is hard to tell where they have vanished to. I have been all over the United States, and even in Dakota you don't meet with them. There are some in Europe and Costa Rica. They are used for dueling. The old style of pistol is now an object of interest only to collectors. But the best specimens have already been bought up."

William Reed, a Boston dealer in fire-arms, has made a very good collection of arms. But the finest collection in the country is said to be that of Morisini, Jay Gould's old associate. He has three large rooms filled with all kinds of antique fire-arms. Though there are very few gentlemen who make collections of this kind, a great many who are fond of shooting like to get one of those old muzzle-loaders. Bachelors stick them up in their rooms.—N. Y. Evening World.

AFFLICTED one, you can not believe it now. But you will come out from that furnace seven times purified in the refining fires of God.—J. R. Macduff, D. D.

THE new Cairo bridge across the Ohio River is to have two spans 518 feet each, seven 400 feet each and three 250 feet each; total length, 4,670 feet. It will be fifty-three feet above high water mark, and will cost $2,500,000. It will take two and a half years to build it. It will be the wonder of the West.

A PROMINENT man in the granite business who has examined the pyramids of Egypt, says there are blocks of stone in them which weigh four times as much as the Obelisk. Some of these great stones fit so closely together that a knife blade could not be inserted between them, and they are not laid with mortar.

THE Hagerman tunnel, recently completed on the Colorado Midland railroad, is claimed to be the highest tunnel in the world. It pierces the Saguache Range 11,530 feet above sea-level, and is 2,164 feet long and 16 feet wide by 18 feet high. The cost is published at $2,000,000. But as the Alpine tunnel on the Union Pacific railroad is put down at 11,624 feet above sea-level, the claim of the Hagerman is not sustained by 94 feet.

IN a paper read before the recent meeting of the American Congress of Forestry, it was stated that the cutting of pine forests of the Northwest is progressing at the rate of eight hundred million feet a year, presaging the obliteration of those of Wisconsin in fifteen years, and those of Minnesota and Michigan in a comparatively brief time. After the axe and saw have done their work, the fires break out and complete the work of destruction.

EIGHT miles from Albany, N. Y., is located the smallest regularly-incorporated railroad in this country. The rolling-stock consists of one locomotive, costing $2,500, and one passenger coach, which is leased. The cost of the construction is given as being but $2,000. Gross earnings from operations for year ending September 30, 1886, were $2,280; operating expenses for the same period, $2,224.21, leaving a surplus of $55.79. The wages and salaries paid amount to $1,223.68 per annum. The cost of fuel for the locomotive was only $30.50; general office expenses and supplies, $4.50.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following; Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark. says: "Was down with abscess of lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Began to take Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jessie Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption I would have died of lung troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at F. Sherer & Co's. drug store.

FOR THE FAMILY CIRCLE.

SLICES of fat bacon, thickly peppered, and tied around the throat with flannel, give speedy relief in sore throat.

NEVER have dark carpet and walls in a room that is deficient in light. Only apartments open to the outer light will stand gloomy tones in decoration.

IRON rust may be removed by the application of lemon juice, in which some salt has been dissolved. Wet the spot with the solution, and lay in the sun.

LARGE mirrors with gilt frames are an eyesore to most people. Small, bevelled glasses, neatly framed in plush, or plain molding are more pleasing, and harmonize better with any surroundings.

FLANNELS should never be rubbed with soap, but, instead, should be washed in warm suds and rinsed in water of the same temperature. The color will be improved by a little bluing in the second water.

MORE heat will be obtained from a large stove with the same consumption of fuel than from a smaller one, with intelligent management. The reason is that the larger stove having the greater surface, the effect upon the surrounding atmosphere is greater.

IF a chimney or flue catch on fire, close all the windows and doors first, then hang a blanket in front of the grate to exclude all air. Water should never be poured down the chimney, as it spoils the carpets. Course salt thrown down the flue is much better.

TO MEND chinaware, take a very thick solution of gum arabic in water and stir in plaster of paris until the mixture becomes a proper consistency. Apply it with a brush to the fractured edges of the china, and stick them together. In three days the article can not be broken in the same place.

WHEN the feet are swollen from walking or long standing, the soreness may be relieved by soaking them in the following: Take some wood ashes and cover with water; let it stand for two or three hours; strain off the water, and place the feet in it. The soreness will disappear almost immediately.

VANILLA SAUCE—One pint of milk; yolks of four eggs; two tablespoonfuls of sugar; one teaspoonful of vanilla. Put the milk on to boil in a farina-kettle. Beat the yolks and sugar together till light, and add the boiling milk. Stir over the fire two minutes; take off, add the vanilla, and put aside to cool.

MEAT FRITTERS.—Any tender cold meat will do, but roasted or boiled chicken is best. Cut the meat, whatever it may be, into small pieces and place in a dish, season with salt and pepper and pour the juice of a fresh lemon over them. Prepare the meat about an hour before making the fritters. Stir the pieces into any good fritter batter, then drop a large spoonful of it at a time into boiling hot fat and fry to a light brown. Drain out of the fat and serve very hot.

A NEAT and novel wall pocket for newspapers is made in the following manner: Take a wire toaster and gild it with liquid gold paint; then run ribbons round through the wires, having each piece go way round so as to form the sides of the pocket, fastening the ribbons neatly at the back; one can use two very broad ribbons or a number of narrow ones, having them different shades of the same color, or contrasting colors, only be sure and have the colors harmonize.

OYSTER FRICASSEE.—Bring a quart of oysters to a boil in their own juice. As soon as the liquid boils strain the oysters out into a colander and keep the juice hot. Heat a piece of butter the size of an egg until it bubbles and stir in a tablespoonful of flour; let it cook a moment, stirring well; then stir in a cupful of the oyster liquid. Take from the fire, add the yolks of two eggs, a little salt, a little cayenne pepper, one teaspoonful of lemon juice and a very little nutmeg if liked. Beat well and place on the fire just long enough to set the egg without boiling. Put in the oysters and serve.

Don't

let that cold of yours run on. You think it is a light thing, but it may run into catarrh or into pneumonia or consumption.

Catarrh is disgusting. Pneumonia is dangerous. Consumption is death itself.

The breathing apparatus must be kept healthy and clear of all obstructions and offensive matter, otherwise there is trouble ahead.

All the diseases of these parts, head, nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, can be delightfully and entirely cured by the use of Boschee's German Syrup. If you don't know this already, thousands and thousands of people can tell you. They have been cured of it, and know how it is, themselves." Bottle only 75 cents. Ask any druggist.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise. A purer medicine does not exist, and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. Will drive Malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers. For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion, try Electric Bitters—entire satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded. Price 50 cents and $1 per bottle at F. Sherer & Co's Drug Store.

PURE BUCKWHEAT Cakes form an important part of a healthful and nutritious breakfast for a cold day.

SOME PERSONS prefer cakes made of Buckwheat flour mixed with other flour, while other people prefer cakes made of pure buckwheat flour.

WE GUARANTEE that every pound of buckwheat flour made and sold by us shall be unmixed with any other flour or ingredient.

PERSONS WHO BUY our flour can mix it to suit themselves. It is more economical to buy the two kinds of flour unmixed.

WE ALSO MAKE and sell Graham flour and Corn Meal for family use.

Our Goods Are Sold at the stores or can be ordered at the mill and delivered to any part of the city.

MONTANA HEARD FROM.—Recent railroad extensions have developed exceptionally fine mineral, stock and farming districts. Maps and full particulars, free, upon application to C. H. WARREN, Gen. Pass. Agt., St. Paul, Minn.

STOCK IN MINNESOTA.—From an exclusive grain country, Minnesota is being rapidly transformed into the finest stock and dairy State in the Union. Cheap lands still obtainable, convenient to railroad. Particulars, free, upon application to C. H. WARREN, Gen. Pass. Agt., St. Paul, Minn.

NEW BUSINESS CENTERS.—The building of railroads in a new and fertile country creates many new towns, affording excellent business opportunities. Particulars regarding such opportunities in Montana, Minnesota and Dakota will be sent upon application to C. H. WARREN, Gen. Pass. Agt., St. Paul, Minn.

PROSPEROUS. North Dakota never had better crops than those just harvested. Many opportunities to secure fine Government lands recently surveyed, near excellent coal fields and adjacent to railroads. Maps and full particulars, free, upon application to C. H. WARREN, Gen. Pass. Agt. St. Paul, Minn.

SUCCESS. Are you mortgaged, paying heaving rents, or running behind? Can you move to new location? Excellent lands, cheap, which will increase in value several fold in five years. No other such opportunities existing. Full particulars, free, upon application to C. H. WARREN, Gen. Pass. Agt., St. Paul, Minn.

FAILURE OF CROPS is an unknown experience in Central and Northern Dakota and Minnesota. Maps and full particulars regarding lands, prices, etc., sent free. Address C. H. WARREN, Gen. Pass. Agt., St. Paul, Minn.

WHY WORK FOR ANOTHER, or on small salary? Why continue working on a worn-out farm? Why try to secure a living from such high-priced or heavily mortgaged farms? Why work on rented land? Why not start for yourself? Why not secure at once some of the low-priced but very fertile and well located lands adjacent to railroads now to be obtained by those going to Northern Dakota and Minnesota, where you can make a larger net profit per acre than on the high priced or worn-out land you now occupy? Why not go and look the situation over and see for yourself, or at least obtain further information, which will be sent free, if you will Address C. H. WARREN, Gen. Pass. Agt., St. Paul, Minn. **?

PAINT YOUR BUGGY for ONE DOLLAR

Use Only COIT & CO'S ONE-COAT BUGGY PAINT. Paint Friday, run it to Church Sunday. Eight Fashionable Shades: Black, Maroon, Vermilion, Blue, Yellow, Olive Lake, Brewster and Wagon Greens. No Varnishing necessary. Dries hard with a "shine." One Coat and job is done. Indispensable to Farmers, Livery-Stable Keepers, and Repair Shops. The greatest money-saving invention of the age. Excellent for Lawn Seats, Flower Pots, Baby Carriages, Screen Doors, Furniture, Store Fronts, etc. Just the thing for the ladies to use about the house. Avoid worthless imitations. We warrant ours not to turn white and to wear at least one year. A quart does a buggy complete.

COIT & CO'S HONEST HOUSE-PAINT

Are you going to Paint this year? If so don't buy a paint containing water or benzine when for the same money you can procure COIT & CO'S PURE PAINT that is warranted to be an HONEST, GENUINE LINSEED-OIL PAINT and free from water and benzine. Demand this brand and take no other. Merchants handling it are our agents and authorized by us, in writing, to warrant it to wear 5 YEARS with 2 COATS or 3 YEARS with 1 COATS. Our Shades are the Latest Styles used in the East now becoming so popular in the West, and up with the times. Try this brand of HONEST PAINT. You will never regret it. You run no risk. Every job and every gallon warranted.

FLOOR-PAINT that WONT DRY STICKY

Ever buy Floor Paint that never dried beyond the sticky point, waste a week, spoil the job, then swear? Next time buy COIT'S FLOOR-PAINT, 4 suitable shades, warranted to dry hard as a rock over night. No trouble. No swearing. Be suspicious when substitutes are offered by Dealers, stating that "they are as good" as ours. It is not so. Cheap imitations cost less, give more profit but no satisfaction, and life is too short to waste time and money on them. COIT & CO., of CHICAGO, Manufacturers

BRIEFLETS.

—Few passengers took advantage of the Sunday trains.

—The "Light Infantry" drill this evening for the first time.

—All kinds of binding done on short notice at the Gazette bindery.

—New goods will be received every day this week by A. F. Hall & Co.

—Treasurer Miles is now waiting for the first payment on the county tax.

—Insurance men begin to lead lives of misery on account of the calendar fiend.

—Richard Cronan, charged with burglarizing the Hanover depot, has pleaded not guilty.

—R. J. Clemens has returned from an extended business trip through the northwest.

—The chilly breezes of last night, even, couldn't entirely do away with the corner loafer nuisance.

—And still there are no tidings of Hess. He must have lost his way somewhere between Janesville and Afton.

—Bills are up for a double-header "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company with a donkey and bull-dog annex.

—The "Pictorial History of All Nations" nicely bound, complete in two volumes for $5, at the Gazette bindery.

—Crystal Temple of Honor No. 32 assemble in regular weekly session this evening—lodge room in the Judd block, North Main street.

—Don't fail to look in the jewelry store of Fred H. Fellows before purchasing your holiday presents. His fine stock is very attractive this year.

—One little tray—not a modest one—in A. F. Hall & Co's window this morning, contained diamonds valued at four thousand five hundred dollars.

—Postmaster Richardson's four years' term expires to-morrow. According to the postal laws however, he will hold over until his successor is confirmed and qualified.

—The next supper and entertainment given by the Rectory Society of Christ church, will be on January 3d, to be followed by an entertainment and dance at Apollo hall.

—Gage & Littlejohn's handsomely furnished establishment, "The Office," on East Milwaukee street will be formally opened to-morrow evening. The public is cordially invited.

—Fred C. Gramzow, (not Cranzell as printed Saturday evenning) the young man injured by falling from a car at the St. Paul depot Saturday afternoon, is resting quite comfortably, and the doctor thinks he is not dangerously injured.

—Fred H. Fellows, jeweler, has received this afternoon by express the finest line of ladies' set rings in the city. Diamonds, opals, pearls, garnets, brilliants turquoise, and many other beautiful designs. Don't fail to see them.

—One of the great social events of this week will be the annual dancing party of Washington Engine Co. No. 1, at the Rifles' armory, on Friday evening. Smith's orchestra will furnish the music, and the committee having the arrangements in hand will see that everyone enjoys the party.

—Chicago Tribune:—"No, it isn't so much the confinement and hard labor that I regret," sadly said the bank embezzler who had just been sentenced to a term of years in the penitentiary; "it is the breaking up of all my cherished church associations of the last fifteen years. That is hard to bear—very hard."

—Anybody with the slightest approach to a sweet tooth who could pass the windows of the Star this morning without a second glance must have had fortitude beyond measure. The display of buttercups, fruit bar, chocolate wafers, crystalized fruit, home-made caramels, and chocolate creams was something that few could resist.

—The ladies and Earnest Workers of Court Street church will have a supper and sale in the Sunday school room of the church, Wednesday evening of this week. Supper will be served from half past five to half past seven. It is a busy week, but business men and women will be served promptly and all for fifteen cents. Articles of utility and beauty will be found at the young ladies' table also home made candies.

—Only four of the one hundred and seventy-six cases, exhibited in the show window of A. F. Hall & Co., on Saturday last, were filled. It was by far the largest display of solid gold cases ever shown in Janesvill. Parties contemplating buying a watch will do well to go where they can find such a variety of cases to choose from.

—Ladies—If your husband or your brother, or your friend is a member of any secret society, why not give him for a christmas present an emblem of the order. A. F. Hall & Co. have a complete line of emblem pins and charms, representing all the secret organizations. They have an especially fine line of K. T. K. P. and I. O. O. F. charms both in solid and fine plate. If you are in doubt what to give, step in their well filled store and look around, you will certainly see something to please.

—The second of the series of fine art entertainments given by the Noyes Brothers, at Cannon's hall on Saturday evening, was well attended, and the fine views—Egypt, the Country Israel Fled From—were received with great delight by the audience. The views are new, and give the audience an interesting study of the historic land. The next subject will be "Picturesque Palestine, the Country Israel Sought," to be followed by "Uncle Sam's Domain, the Country We Live In," and concluding with "The Taking of Petrea, the Rocky City of Edom."

PERSONAL.

—H. C. Stearns is in Chicago looking for novelties in Christmas goods.

—Frank Beswick, of Madison, spent Sunday with Janesville friends.

—Dr. O. F. Presbey, of Washington, D. C., is a guest of A. A. Jackson, of the first ward.

See our big line of handkerchiefs at 2 cents this week, at Archie Reid's.

Will sell harness of all discription cheaper than the cheapest.

WISCONSIN HORSE BREEDERS

The Annual Meeting—Officers Elected —Financial Condition.

The annual meeting of the Wisconsin Association of Trotting Horse Breeders was held at the club rooms in the Plankinton house, Milwaukee, Friday, and elected the following officers.

President, John L. Mitchell; vice presidents, J. I. Case, of Racine, H. D. McKinney, of Janesville, and E. H. Brodhead, of Milwaukee; secretary, Frank L. Smith, of Milwaukee; treasurer, J. E. Corrigan, of Milwaukee.

Quite a discussion was had on the suggestion of Mr. N. D. Fratt that the races of the state fair and Horse Breeders association be merged into one.

No definite action was taken, the sentiment being general that if the state fair officers should submit a formal proposition the executive committee could attend to it.

Treasurer Corrigan reported that there was a cash balance in the treasury of $181; due from the Racine Exposition association $150; amount on hand for stakes to be paid in future, $235; total, $566.

A resolution was adopted that with the exception of one stake, that no purse be offered for other than Wisconsin bred colts. There was no talk with reference to the next place of holding a trotting meeting but it is probable that Milwaukee will be decided upon if satisfactory arrangements can be made with the lessees of Cold Spring park. The meeting would have been held last summer but for difficulty experienced in this convention.

MARRIED.

VROOMAN-NOYES.

On Sunday at two o'clock p. m. at the residence of Mr. and Mr. J. B. Noyes, in the first ward, by Rev. Thomas Walker, Mr. Walter Vrooman, of Lake Geneva, Wis., and Miss Ruth E. Noyes, of this city. Only relatives and a few intimate friends were present. After the ceremony a bountiful dinner was served to about twenty-five people, after which music and mirth were the order of the afternoon and evening. Altogether it was a pleasant affair and the happy couple will carry to their new home at Lake Geneva the best wishes of a host of friends. The offerings of friends were numerous and beautiful.

That a good many people who say the world owes them a living aren't willing to even hustle around and collect it.

That it is not a sign that a girl regards a man with contempt because she "sits down upon him." That is, in a physical sense.

That the man who fondly imagines he knows all about the politics of both the state and the nation, usually hasn't even capacity enough to run for constable.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer indicated 17 degrees above zero. Clear with northwest wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 39 degrees above zero. Clear with southwest wind. For the corresponding hours last year the register was 10 and 24 degrees above zero. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 26 degrees above zero. Cloudy with south wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 42 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 12 and 22 degrees above zero.

THE DAKOTA EDITION.

In reply to the numerous applications the St. Paul Globe has published a pamphlet containing letters heretofore appearing in the paper giving the experience of reliable farmers living in Dakota and the northwest. Copies will be mailed free to all parties desiring such information.

Those intending to remove to the northwest will find the pamphlet of great value. It is, however, only one example of the Globe's enterprise. Editor Lewis Baker has built up at St. Paul a daily that in more than one point surpasses even those of New York and Chicago.

A VALUABLE PUBLICATION.

The Scientific American, published by the great patent agency firm of Munn & Co., New York, is the most practically useful publication of its kind in the country. Indeed, it occupies a field distinctively its own. Not alone for the machinist, manufacturer or scientist, but it is a journal for popular perusal and study. It is the standard authority on scientific and mechanical subjects. It is placed at a low rate of subscription, $3 per annum, which places it within the reach of all.

SANTA CLAUS' VISIT

The Preparations That Are Being Made For It By Janesville People.

Some of the Ways In Which It Will Be Made Enjoyable to All.

When the children's patron saint reaches Janesville this year he will be warmly received. Especially will this be so in the various churches, for in all of them elaborate preparations are being made.

The Congregationalists will give a Christmas supper on Friday night of this week. But the real Christmas entertainment will take the place of the evening service on Sunday. There will be an old fashioned Sunday school concert, with recitations, songs, choruses and selected readings. The fact that the concert is to be in charge of Mr. W. S. Jeffries, superintendent of the Sunday school, is a sufficient guarantee of its merit.

Superintendent Thor. Judd, who has charge of the Presbyterian entertainment, has a programme of responsive readings, carols, recitations and concert exercises illustrative of "The True Christmas." It will be given at the church on Tuesday evening after Christmas, while on Wednesday, January 4th, the children of the church will be given a supper at Cannon's hall.

The preparations at Trinity church have been limited somewhat by the illness of the pastor. A meeting will be held in the rectory this evening, to make final arrangements. There will be a carol service Christmas eve as well as special services on Sunday. The children's entertainment and the unveiling of the Christmas tree will probably be on the Wednesday evening following.

Christ church will celebrate with the aid of a Christmas tree and trained choruses of child carol singers. The church will be decorated very handsomely both on Christmas eve when the entertainment proper will take place and on Sunday when there will be special services of song.

The committee in charge of the Christmas entertainment for the Baptist young people, have arranged for a concert exercise Sunday night. It will include a variety of appropriate songs, and will be followed on Tuesday night of the same week by a Christmas social.

A prominent feature of the entertainment at the First M. E. church will be "Jacob's Ladder. This ladder, the exact nature of which is not to be divulged until the audience is gathered on Christmas eve, will take the place of the time-honored Christmas tree, and from it will be distributed the presents. A musical and literary programme is also being arranged by the committee having the affair in charge.

Court Street church will celebrate on Monday evening December 26th. A charming little cantata, "Jingle Bells," will be presented, it being preceded by readings, vocal and instrumental solos and a series of very effective tableaux.

The principal part of the exercises at All Soul's church will be two Christmas plays. One of these is being prepared by Mrs. Walter Helms and the other by Mrs. Frank Kimball. The date set is Christmas Eve.

CHIPS FROM THE YULE LOG.

According to the New York Journal Santa Claus is being measured for his Christmas soot.

'Tis the mockery of joy for a man to receive a Christmas present from his wife when he knows it was purchased with the money she took out of his pocket the night he was not so full as she fondly imagined. At least that is what the Milwaukee Journal editor says and he certainly ought to know.

The worst thing to get for Christmas is to get drunk.

If anybody waits until the last minute to buy Christmas presents this year he is likely to be badly disappointed.

People that buy ninety-five cent presents and then tie $3.75 tags on are beginning to make themselves conspicuous.

ALL THE GIRLS SAY AMEN.

Young men, the large majority of you are hovering around on the verge of matrimony, shivering like mouse-colored terriers, and afraid to step off. The great majority of you know just where you can put your finger on a girl who would marry you at a second's notice, but you are afraid that you couldn't satisfy the landlords, coal dealers, and milliners that a man always weds when he marries a woman. You are not men! You are simply cowards, who see a prize hanging above your heads and have not the moral courage to ascertain if your arm is long enough and strong enough to pluck it. My advise to you is, if you have got a job, and you are earning fair wages, to get married and go to house-keeping if you have to begin with an oil stove, a candle, and a bed lounge. This may seem to you to be a small beginning, and so it is; but, once married, the money that you now throw away in your endeavor to quiet your restless soul will go into furniture and little knick-nacks, and you will soon wake up to the fact that you are the owner of a home, and that word means a great deal to a young fellow who has been swimming around in the ocean of life ever since he was big enough to shave himself. Just as soon as a man can stand up before the world, point to a pleasant home presided over by a wife who makes a harness of smiles with which her husband draws his burden of daily cares, and says: "They are mine," he jerks his head up in the air about six inches and goes prancing around like a yearling colt in a new pasture. Get married, young men, and if you use common sense in picking out a wife, you are sure to make a success of the venture. There is nothing this side of Heaven that can smooth out the wrinkles in a man's disposition or knock down the obstructions that get in his path as he tramps along through this brief probation of life so perfectly as the sympathy and affection of a true, noble, self-sacrificing woman, and I am eccentric enough to believe that the majority of women are built that way.—Catholic Citizen.

IN THE CHURCHES.

Rev. Cyrus Hamlin Exchanges with Rev. S. P. Wilder.—Other Services.

Two very able sermons were those preached by the Rev. Cyrus Hamlin, of Beloit, in the Congregational church of this city yesterday. That in the morning was on the text: "According to your faith be it unto you." It taught the futility of men's endeavors when unsupported by Divine strength. In the evening the discourse had for its subject the parable of the wedding feast. Those rejecting the bridegroom's invitation were taken as representing the unbelievers of to-day. There were three great classes—those who throw aside the treasures of religion for the more tangible property of earth; those who pass them by for enjoyments of their own contriving, and those who are led away by earthly affection. It is right, said Mr. Hamlin, to throw around religion every possible attraction, but it is useless to appeal with promises of these pleasures to those who are satisfied already. Christ says: "If a man renounce not all he has he cannot be my disciple." Only in that way is deliverance from sin and real unison with the father possible.

At the First M. E. church last evening the pulpit was filled by District Lecturer W. H. Clarke, of the Good Templars.

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.

How It Will Be Observed by the Janesville Churches.

This year the week of prayer in Janesville will be a union of services. A union service will be held every evening except Thursday. On Thursday evening each church will worship under its own roof.

The programme for the week has been arranged, and is as follows:

Monday, January 2—Service in the Court Street church, led by the Rev. Dr Hodge.

Tuesday, January 3.—Service in the Baptist church led by Rev. W. F. Brown.

Wednesday, January 4.—Service at the First M. E. church led by Rev. S. P. Wilder.

Friday, Jan. 6.—Service at the Congregational church, led by the Rev. Thomas Walker.

Saturday, Jan. 7—Service at the Presbyterian church led by the Rev. T. De Witt Peake.

How Intelligent Women Decide.

When the question has to be met as to what is the best course to adopt to secure a sure, safe and agreeable remedy for those organic diseases and weaknesses which afflict the female sex, there is but one wise decision, viz.: A course of self-treatment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is an unfailing specific for periodical pains, misplacements, internal inflammation, and all functional disorders that render the lives of so many women miserable and joyless. They who try it, praise it. Of druggists.

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATION.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Carlton C Heath, Cornelia street, second ward, celebrated their golden wedding, it being the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. By special invitation about forty of their neighbors assembled at their home in the evening, and assisted in duly celebrating an event vouchsafed to but few couples. Refreshments were served, and when the sociability of the company was at its height, Mr. O. F. Nowlan, in behalf of those assembled, presented the bride and groom of fifty summers, a purse of gold as a token of esteem from their friends, and as a welcome reminder of the joyous occasion Mr. and Mrs. Heath have resided in Janesville many years, and their many friends here and elsewhere, wish them many years more happiness in their married life.

The Paris letter about advertising, to Mr. S. R. Niles, of Boston, from the largest retail establishment in the world, is a handsome testimonial to an old and experienced agent whose work has been skillfully performed. It emphasizes in a striking manner wherein Mr. Niles experience and ability are of great value to advertisers and we are very glad to have the opportunity to endorse their opinion of him. The letter says:

"We beg to express to you our entire satisfaction with the care and zeal you have shown in the execution of our last advertising order, and take this opportunity to cordially recognize the exactness, promptness and circumspection which you have devoted for several years past to all the publicity entrusted to you, as well as the judicious choice of journals selected for our benefit."

ALBANY.

—Dick Worley, of Juda, a reputed, notoriously bad character, was arrested and confined in the Green county jail, at Monroe, charged with assaulting and robbing John Watkins, a resident of Albany township. Mr. Watkins happened in Brodhead one day last week and indulged most too freely of the ardent. At all events, he boarded the wrong train at night and landed in Juda instead of Albany. He had sufficient control of his reasoning faculties, however, to realize his situation, and inquired of the bystanders if there was a hotel in the town where he could put up for the night. It is reported that Dick Worley volunteered to accompany him to the hotel and led him off in the darkness. Sometime in the night Mrs. Byrne, who lives on the principal street, heard groans and cries for help. She aroused the neighbors, who found Watkins lying on the ground by the roadside in a battered condition, having sustained severe bruises about the head. One ear was badly lacerated and bleeding. He stated that he was knocked down, beaten and robbed of his pocket book, which contained five or six dollars. He was taken to the hotel and properly cared for, and in the morning returned home. A twenty-dollar gold piece, wrapped in paper and stored away in his vest pocket, escaped the vigilence of the robber. Watkins left for Monroe Saturday, to be present at the examination of Worley.

—A new departure has recently taken place in the management of Albany's popular hostlery, the Nichols house. Mr. Louis A. Nichols, resident of Albany, a brother of Mrs. Dr. J. H. Warren, of Janesville, assuming control in the general management. Miss Lavina Hoskins former hostess and lessee of the house, has been engaged for a time as caterer and superintendent of the cuisine department. The hotel is provided with new furnishings throughout and no pains has been spared in any of the essentials which conduce to the comfort of guests

The new Kansas City Division of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway will be opened for passenger business between local points thereon and for other points on its various lines, on Monday, December 19, 1887. During the winter months two daylight trains (one in each direction) will be run daily except Sunday between Kansas City, Liberty, Excelsior Springs, Lawson, St. Joseph, Chillicothe, Gault, Seymour, Ottumwa, Hedrick, Sigourney, Webster Amana, Cedar Rapids and Marion; connecting at Marion with night trains to and from Chicago, Milwaukee and intermediate points. Connection will also be made at Marion with trains to and from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Stillwater, Faribault, Owatonna, Winona, La Crosse and all principal points in Minnesota and Wisconsin reached via the lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway.

"The ticket offices of the company at St. Joseph, Mo., are located at the southeast corner of Third and Francis streets and at the Union depot.

"The ticket offices of the company at Kansas City, Mo., are located at No. 600 Delaware street and at Belt Line depot, foot of Grand avenue, at which depot all trains of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway will (for the present) arrive and depart.

"Passengers ticketed at the city office at No. 600 Delaware street, Kansas City, for Chillicothe and points north and east thereof, will be entitled to free transfer of themselves and baggage from hotel or residence in Kansas City to the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway depot.

Yours truly,
A. V. H. CARPENTER,
Gen'l Pass. and Ticket Agent."

POOR, LONESOME BELOIT.

The Departure of the Collegians Leaves Her Deserted.

[Special Correspondence.]

BELOIT, Dec. 19.—But one more day remains of this term; and by Wednesday but six or eight boys of two hundred and twenty-five will be left here, and Beloit will be desolate enough. The college bells will be silent, the campus cease to be shoveled, the toboggan slide will be locked up, and probably the clock on the old First Congregational church, will stop. What a place Beloit must be in vacation.

The College Rhetorical last week varied somewhat from their usual stereotyped form. The hour was devoted to a celebration of the eightieth birthday of that "most American of all American poets," John G. Whittier.

The annual reception tendered to the classical Freshmen by Prof. and Mrs. Emerson was given last Wednesday evening. A most enjoyable time was had by the freshmen together with their ladies and about fifty invited friends. Most of the evening was occupied by the class reading the translations of Holmes' Odyssey into English meter.

Prof. Blaisdell has returned from Washington, D. C., where he attended the annual meeting of the American branch of the "World's Evangelical Alliance." Between twelve and thirteen hundred of the foremost christians of every denomination and from every state and territory of the Union were present.

The second exercise of the Juniors in extempore speaking occurred last Thursday afternoon. After much discussion it was Resolved, "That the present jury system should be modified so as to require something less than a unanimous vote for a verdict."

The '87-'88 catalogues have at last arrived and show that two hundred and sixty-five are in attendance here. A gain of over fifty over last year.

FROM READY RHYMERS.

Crush Not a Flower.

Crush not a flower of faith or hope
That in another's heart may rise,
But let the perfumed petals ope
And waft their incense to the skies.

Say not "'tis vain" of any dream,
Or fancy of the human brain,
For out of it some lofty scheme
May ripen into golden grain.

Laugh not to scorn the humblest plan
A brother may have formed for good,
For angels deeper see than man—
It may be wise when understood.

Say not to any careworn heart:
"You ne'er will reach the goal you seek."
But act the kinder, nobler part—
Give strength and courage to the weak.

Say not of any neighbor's field:
"He's planted where he should have sown."
For God is patient and the yield,
Though rich or poor, is all his own.

A Masterpiece.

I drew with ease
A masterpiece,
At least I thought 'twas such;
Angelic grace
Beamed on the face
I traced with tender touch.

Entranced I gazed,
Bewildered, dazed;
For in that "counterfeit
Presentment" true,
At last I knew
My triumph was complete.

In frame of gold,
With fold on fold
Of patterns arabesque,
I did encase
That saintly face
So sweetly picturesque.

Forthwith I hied
Me to her side—
To her who'd won my heart;
My pale cheeks glowed
As then I showed
My finest work of art.

"Look, look!" I cried,
With honest pride;
"Won't this face bring me fame?"
She raised her head
And simply said:
"Oh, what a lovely frame!"

The Wedding Day.

Oh, sum and crown of happy life,
Oh, day that dwarfs the years so small,
When merges maiden in the wife,
And Love itself is all in all!

Great hopes take color from to-day,
Tho' precious tears are gem'd to fall,
Love's rainbow spans life's arc alway,
For Love, indeed, is all in all!

I know not how the child may love,
Whose ties of being yet must wake;
Unfledged for flight the snowy dove,
Knows not the height its wings may take;

Nor yet, how rugged man may choose,
In all the splendor of his power,
To live alone—and love refuse—
When Love alone is Heaven's dower;

I know not how old age may love,
When voices from the Past may call,
But Love, I know, is from above,
What e'er its years, 'tis all in all!

It may be youth, it may be age,
Or ripened manhood's early morn.
Whene'er the hour life's brightest page
Is golden with a Faith new-born!

Oh, birthright of the chosen one!
Oh, guerdon that survived the Fall,
All else may perish, but the sun
Of Love outlasts!—it shines for all!

Then drink to Beauty in its bloom,
To manly promise in its youth,
The budded rose yields sweet perfume,
And souls that love unite in Truth!

Oh, Sheaves of Fruitage! bind them fast,
With golden words beyond recall,
Oh, sunny skies forever last,
And Love to each be all in all!
—Yonkers Gazette.

To the Girls.

Chew, chew, chew,
Oh maiden, fancy free!
And I would that my tongue could utter
The thoughts that arise in me.

With a gluck, gluck, gluck,
Go thy jaws, which never are still;
And oh, the sight of thy cavernous mouth,
And oh, thy tolu bill!

'Tis well for the youth who dreams
At night of thy beauty and grace
That he sees thee not with thy quid of gum
Distorting thy fair young face.

The car rumbles down the street,
Somewhere the rumble will cease;
But oh for the sight of a jaw at rest
And a mouth forever at peace!

Autumn Glee.

'Tis all a myth that autumn grieves,
For watch the rain amid the leaves;
With silver fingers dimly seen
It makes each leaf a tambourine;
And swings and leaps with elfin mirth
To kiss the brow of mother earth;
Or, laughing 'mid the trembling grass,
It nods a greeting as you pass.
Oh! hear the rain amid the leaves—
'Tis all a myth that autumn grieves!

'Tis all a myth that autumn grieves,
For list the wind among the sheaves;
Far sweeter than the breath of May
Or storied scents of old Cathay,
It blends the perfumes rare and good
Of spicy pine and hickory wood,
And with a voice as gay as rhyme
It prates of rifled mint and thyme.
Oh! scent the wind among the sheaves—
'Tis all a myth that autumn grieves!

'Tis all a myth that autumn grieves—
Behold the wondrous web she weaves!
By viewless hands her thread is spun,
Of evening vapors shyly won.
Across the grass from side to side
A myriad unseen shuttles glide
Throughout the night, till on the height
Aurora leads the laggard light.
Behold the wondrous web she weaves—
'Tis all a myth that autumn grieves!

Truly Rural.

What tho' I have no landed rate,
No daisied field or meadow lot,
My neighbor has a broad estate,
Tho' I have not.

So in his well-tilled grounds I'll stray,
'Twill cost him nothing for my stroll
By hawthorne hedge or ivied way,
I'll take no toll,

Save breath of air or hum of bee,
Perchance a four-leaf clover blade,
Or ripened apple, 'neath some tree,
Far in the shade.

Here goes, then, for a peaceful stroll,
By autumn field and lane I'll jog.
Hallo! What's this? Upon my soul:
"Beware the dog."

Good Turk, I'll come some other day,
Just now I feel inclined to pass,
But here's another legend—stay:
"Keep off the grass!"

I'll try the grove—the friendly trees
Are balmy tho' their leaves are sere;
What, ho! whose sculptured words are these?
"No trespass here!"

Well, there's the orchard—fragrant spot;
I'll dream and wander there, mayhap
Some easy—Murder! help, I've got
Into a trap.
